What We Do

Pathfinders provides a 10-week grief support group for children and their families or caregivers who are experiencing the death of a loved one. Children find help in sharing feelings and experiences with other children their own age. Feelings are expressed and released through stories, games, drawings, discussions, play and other activities. Adults who come with children meet in their own groups.

Teens and Young Adults! You meet separately in your own group in a supportive and confidential setting.
